Academy Industry Cooperation, Gilat's Experience

Avi Gal
Director, R&D Projects and Alliances
Gilat Satellite Networks Ltd.

The presentation will share with the audience the experience acquired through years of Academy and Industry R&D cooperation. The motivation, benefits, challenges as well as few insights from real-life experience will be presented.

Short Bio

Avi Gal has acquired more than 30 years of experience in system engineering and management of large and multidisciplinary R&D projects in various organizations: IDF, Telkoor. Tadiran, NICE and Gilat.
From 1990-1999 at NICE he acted as senior system engineer, FAA project manager, Engineering Director and Major Account Director.
From 1999, Avi is with Gilat Satellite Networks Ltd. as Director, R&D Projects and Alliances. He initiated and managed few R&D cooperation projects funded by the EC and by the Israeli OCS; currently he is the chairman of the RESCUE Israeli consortium;

Avi holds B.Sc in Physics and Computer Science from the Bar-Ilan University. Chaired the second INCOSE-IL conference, contributed and participated in various technical committees in the mobile and wireless telecommunication area.